BATS FULL OF HOLES.

Watkins's Men Unable to Find the Ball at St. Paul.

ST. PAUL, Minn., July 22.-The St. Paul eam won to-day's game from the champions, and the visitors have no excuses to offer. The victory was principally due to Denzer, who pitched a good game. The visitors could not hit when it was necessary, their six hits being scattered through four innings. When men were on bases he pitched especially well, two of the visitors' runs being scored on an error, and a three-base hit by Wood. The third one was scored on a triple by Hogriever, and a single by McCarthy. Denzer struck out six men and only gave one base. Damon was Thorntown .. 0 0 found for fifteen hits. He struck out five men, but allowed four to walk. He kept the Bane, 11. Batteries-Crawfordsville, hits well scatter except in the third inning when he was touched for six, but only three runs were scored. The game was the best of the series, both teams playing clean, fast ball. Hogan and McCarthy both did sensational field work. Neither Shannon's nor Damon's errors counted for anything. George played a star game for the Saints, making five put-outs, three of them being sensational catches, which shut off runs. O'Day made a bad decision in the seventh inning. Kraus hit to left and McCarthy caught it just before it struck the ground. O'Day thought he picked it up and gave Kraus the hit. He was left on the base. The Saints scored one in the first on a single, a double and a steal; three in the third on a double, a sacrifice, a single and a triple by George; and two in the eighth on two doubles and a force by a man being hit.

It is selfevident here that the new league did not want to meet and play in such fast company as the Rockville team. Nevertheless, Rockville will continue to play independent ball and lay for the winner of the champlonship of the State. Clubs wanting to play good ball should notify the Rockville manager for dates. The Kansas City league team, having heard of Rockville's fine club, wanted dates this week, but as the locals are in Illinois for sixteen or twenty games the "Cowboys" could not be accommodated. Rockville's friend, Manager Watkins, will also play some exhibition ball against the best semi-professional club in Indiana at a later date. If any of the teams in the State league feel lonesome and want action all they have to do is to notify Rockville's manager. The home team will go

THE PROGRESSIVE OHIO CITY CELE-BRATING ITS CENTENNIAL.

Spee by Major McKinley and a Telegi m from the President-Latter Presses a Button.

CLEVELAND, O., July 22.-This was Founders' day and the banner day of the. founded one hundred years ago to-day by General Moses Cleveland. All the business houses were closed and the day devoted to the commemoration of the event. Long before the hour set for the exercises of the day to begin the public square and the down town streets were jammed with people, a large portion of them being strangsulting. Burns out from Shannon to ers. The exercises of the day were held in the Central Armory, beginning at 9:30 a. m., where a vast audience assembled. After music by the Cleveland vocal soclety, Mayor Robert E. McKisson delivered an address of welcome on behalf of the Cleveland centennial commission. United States Senator Hawley, of Conecticut, gave cock out from second to first. Krauss an historical address which was full of interest to the people of the Western Reserve. Following the reading of the centennial ode, composed by Col. John J. Platt. a number of distinguished guests were introduced and made brief addresses. Among them were Governor O. Vincent Coffin, of Connecticut; Governor Asa S. Bushnell, of Ohio; Senator Sherman, ex-Governor Mc-Kinley, and others. After referring to the progress of Cleveland, Major McKinley said

"All this has been accomplished in century. Who were those who began the arisen and when came they? Such questions are natural on such a day. When a surveying band of fifty reached the mouth of Cuyahoga they found here the advantages which made them favor the spot for the founding of a city. They were men of courage, endurance, strong and pure characters and determined of purpose. Grand was their mission and well they accomplished it. When they founded a city here in the wilderness they bequeathed to it the proper conception of the right of free government. This was the clear and definite understanding of the inviolability of public faith and public honor. Though undergo-ing the most rigid hardships they did not forget the Fourth of July and celebrated the birthday of the Nation by flying to the preeze on their bark the glorious flag of our Nation with her thirteen stars and stripes. No men ever struggled harder to support the very principles for which that flag No men anywhere were better calculated to prosper any community. The glorious pioneer! He left his impression everywhere. The impress of the sturdy, honest woman who feared God and loved liberty. As the morning light is the mon-arch of the hills, the pioneer is the monarch of our civilization. Let me commend to you the example of the fathers. It is better than riches and vastly better than monarchy. God grant that the love for religious liberty, jealous care for the public credit, probity and honest strength, loyalty to free institutions and indomitable courage may be as dear to the people of this and succeeding generations as it was to them." Mr. James H. Hoyt, who presided as chairman, read the following telegram from President Cleveland: "I congratulate the city of Cleveland on the close of her first entury with the wish that it is but the beginning of her greatness and prosperity."

Mr. J. G. W. Cowles, president of the Chamber of Commerce, then announced a gift to the city of Cieveland by John D. Rockefeller of a large and valuable tract of land for the extension of the city's park and boulevard system. The property given by Mr. Rockefeller is worth between $600,000

After the conclusion of the exercises at the Armory the big procession was formed. It was composed of Governor Bushnell and staff; two detachments of United States infanty and cavalry, two regiments of Ohio militia and a large number of detachments of military companies and a long line of civic societies in uniform. The distin-guished guests rode in carriages. Among them was Major McKinley, Senator Sher-man, Senator Hawley and Governor Coffin, nnecticut. The procession was nearly wo hours passing a given point and it was nearly 6:30 when the last company had passed the reviewing stand. At 8 o'clock this evening the centennial arch in the public square was illuminated.

"All property sold at public auction is subject to 5 per cent. auction fees, payable by the purchaser. The consensus of opin-ion was that the trotters brought very good prices. Bay, light brown or chestnut geldings of from five to seven years and about sixteen hands can usually find purchasers in this market at the prices quoted, for the above are the favorite colors among local buyers. Marking is also es-sential, and unless an animal is gifted with a pair of white feet or lacks patches or spots on his body, his chances for a good price are poor. No. 18 was, in my mind, as good a horse as the one which preceded him, but, unfortunately, was poorly marked, and brought $35 less. "I learn from the Messrs. Nanki Pooh Defeats Clifford. NEW YORK, July 22.-But for the inrecord breaker for the track by the sea. As it was there were 5,000 people present, and all were delighted with the new order of things. The chief race of the day was the Brighton Beach handicap, in which Clifford was an odds-on favorite, although Nanki Pooh had plenty of following, the going just suiting him. The Swain and Dutch Skater were the only other starters, but they were after the third money, and the latter got it. When the flag fell The Swain started to make the pace, but it was a slow one. Down past the grand stand the quartet swept, but Dutch Skater was not in the contest, laboring in the mud like a ship without a rudder. As they rounded the lower turn Clifford fell back into third place, while Doggett sent Nanki Pooh up to join The Swain. Up the back stretch they reced along the quarters thus far nor they raced along, the quarters thus far not varying much from thirteen seconds. Just before reaching the mile Nanki Pooh went to the front, and Taral set sail for him. Nanki Pooh were under whip and spur, while Doggett was pulling Nanki Pooh, who finally won by three lengths, almost in a walk. Clifford ran in bad form. In the first race Rubicon took up the running at once and was never headed, winning very easy, in excellent form. The twenty-three starters in the First Attempt stakes dwin-dled to nine at the post, and of these Sui-sun was a strong favorite. But Taranto and Rodermond carried them to the halfoff. Winners and odds: Rubicon, 6 to 5; Lady Louise, 8 to 1; Jefferson, 9 to 5; Nanki Pooh, 11 to 5; Challenger, 6 to 1; Kennel, 8 to 5.

if it comes to a question of a lawsuit with the city, they will try to show that it is not their fault that the work on the new City Hospital building cannot be completed within the original appropriation of $26,000. The firm is not criticising anyone. Mr. Vonnegut says when the Board of Public Works talked about "consulting our attorney," Monday, he was careful to say nothing discourteous, as he had hopes some amicable way of meeting the difficulty might be devised. Notwithstanding the peculiar correspondence on file in the office of the Board of Public Works, on which reliance is placed by that body, Vonnegut & Bohn will be prepared to place the blame where it belongs if occasion arises. Early in February they submitted rough plans of the buildings provided for in the appropriation. Feb. 3 the board wrote Vonnegut & Bohn, appointing them architects, accepting the rough plans and authorizing them to further perfect the plans and all details, so that the board could advertise for sealed proposals. "You are instructed," the letter read, "to see that plans perfected provide for improvements which will not exceed in cost the appropriation made, and, before advertisement for bids is made, the plans perfected by you must be approved by the Vonnegut & Bohn to write the board a letone to three seconds in nearly every heat | ter stating in specific terms that plans and construction will not exceed, when fully completed, the amount appropriated, in-cluding their fee. Feb. 7 the architects wrote the board again, saying: "We hereby agree that we will make such plans and specifications for the addition to the hospital in such a manner and be specific that the said plans and construction will not exceed, when fully completed, the amount appropriated, including our fee of 5 per centum, said amount appropriated being $26,-

The above, then, is the contract on which the Board of Public Works relies to compel the architects to complete the work without a further appropriation. No bond was given to guarantee the carrying out of the agreement and no penalty was provided for its violation.

The architects seem to have acted in good faith; to them was submitted by the Board of Public Works a statement of the different amounts appropriated, purporting to have been copied from the ordinance. The $26,000 was divided into the fol lowing items: New north wing to City Hospital, $15,000; laundry and boiler house, $4,000; nurses' headquarters, $4,000. The last two items are stricken out and $6,500 made to cover both. For engine, boiler and equip ment for laundry and boiler house, there was $2,000. By correction this is increased to $4,000. The Item of miscellaneous expenses is increased from $300 to $500, and the item of $700 for furnishing the hospital is stricken out entirely. It appears that the board undertook to modify the different items of appropriation as fixed by the Council to suit its own ideas of what the work would cost. Mr. Vonnegut says that the firm proceeded on the theory that the board had investigated the question thoroughly and knew what the different portions of the work would cost. Upon that theory, plans were drawn by them for the new wing and the boiler house, quarters for the nurses being included in the wing. The board advertised for bids and the work was let for about $17,000, but Mr. Vonnegut says that when plumbing and other incidentals are added, which were not included in the specifications for the buildings, the entire amount set aside for the buildings, $21,500, will be exhausted, leaving but $4,500 for all other purposes The architects have found it exceedingly difficult to obey two masters. The Board of Public Works adjured them to keep within the appropriation one minute, and the next informed them that everything must be done satisfactory to the Board of Public Health. Acting on this order additions have been made at the suggestion of the latter board which were not originally People familiar with the present administration look upon the whole affair as due deliberate attempt to sandbag the Council into making further appropriations in spite of the city controller's policy of "economy." Good business judgment, they say, would have been exercised by the board if it had had plans and specifications made of the entire work, including minute details. Bids could then have been received for all the work and an accurate knowledge obtained of how much money it would take, and an intelligent appro priation made. The work has been by piece-meal, both as to plans and bids and there has been more guess work than knowledge on which to base estimates. The city, he declares, will be held responsible for freezing hydrants, and if it s necessary to move them no attention will be paid to basins. Continuing, the letter says: "The former engineer gave this company a line for hydrants in South Meidian street. Your officer gave us notice that the hydrants were in the sidewalks and were dangerous, and ordered them moved. Mr. Herpick relocated the hydrants, making us move them. The Central Cycle Manufacturing Company asked the Board of Public Works for better fire protection yesterday. The company suggested that the hydrant at Meridian and Garden

In case of fire at the Parry cart works, the bicycle works or the Industrial Training School, the company says heavy demands would be made on this hydrant. As like changes are being made in other localities, the company asked that the board order the change at once. The communication was referred to the Board of Public Safety for information as to whether the petition can be granted. Upon the recmmendation of City Engineer Jeup the board appointed two more inspectors for the engineering department. They are C. W. Myers and W. P. Smith. Their appointments are to take effect at the option of the engineer. BOND STILL QUESTIONED.

Brightwood and Its Treasurer-Part of Bicycle Ordinance Repealed.

At the regular meeting of the Brightwood Town Board, last night, the bond of Joseph Cook, treasurer-elect of the town, was again orought up for the purpose of considering a new surety who had signed his name to the bond. Albert J. Reinken, jr., is the new surety on the bond, and a communication from Martin M. Hugg, attorney, accompanying the bond, stating that Mr. Kealing, the town's attorney, was away on his vacation, and that in his absence he had examined the records in the assessor's office, and had found that Mr. Reinken was assessed to the amount of $4,755, $65 of which is for personal property. He also stated that he had not examined to see whether there were any incumbrances upon the property. He advised the board that if it thought the new surety. together with the sureties already on the bond that were reported upon by Mr. Kealing, would bring the bond up to the required amount, that it would be justified in approving the bond, otherwise not, The situation was discussed pro and con by the trustees, and Trustee Stephens made a mo-tion to accept the bond, but the motion was lost. Mr. Traub, a citizen, arose and scored Mr. Kealing for not making a direct statement regarding the bond when he reported on the other securities. Trustee White asked Mr. Traub why, if he was working for the best interests of the town, he did not go on the bond as security, and Mr. Traub replied that it was against his policy to go on any one's bond. A demand was made to have every surety on the bon make affidavit to the value of property hele in his own right; however, this has not been required of the sureties on the bonds of the other town officials. A motion was finally adopted that the bond be submitted to the town's attorney for approval An ordinance was introduced and passed repealing section No. 2 of the bicycle ordinance, which prohibits riding upon the sidewalks of the town. Hannah Artist sent the board a communication stating that she expected the town to pay her for the damage done her property by the water that flooded her yard. A bad culvert and lack of proper drainage is the cause. Complaint was made through Mr. Stephens against Edward Bixler, one of the town's deputy marshals, for the assumption of too much authority. He is claimed to have ordered a stranger to leave town without cause. Hose company No. 1 asked for permission to move its hose house to the corner of Glen Drive and

Shade street. The marshal was instructed to cut the weeds along the sidewalks. Albert Wilkinson, deputy marshal of Brightwood, swore out a warrant, yestereither to bad management on the part of day, against John Meginnes, an agent for the Board of Public Works, or else as a jewelry house in the city, for riding on the sidewalks of the town. Charles Wilson pleaded guilty to the charge of assault and battery on Jesse Hawkins, in Justice Herig's court, in West Indianapolis, yesterday, and was fined $1 and costs. The trial of John Brennan, charged with robbery, was postponed until 10 o'clock next Tuesday morning. Isaac Ramsey, charged with petit larceny, waived preliminary examination and was bound over to await the action of C. W. Ellis was arrested last night by Chief Massing, of the West Indianapolis po-
